Shopping in the grocery store

Read the dialouge below and then answer the questions.

Mia: All right, now we are here. What's on the list?

Erica: Oh, I'm afraid I forgot it at home.

Mia: Are you serious? There was like 20 items on that list.

Erica: I'm sorry, Max distracted me. He was barking at something outside.

Mia: Well, what should we do?

Erica: I can name at least 15 items from the list right now. We can always call your dad and have him send a picture of the list.

Mia: But he was going to wash the car and then go over to Ralph's house. They have a band performance tonight, remember?

Erica: True. I been married to him for 14 years and I know for sure that he is going to have a lot to do before the performance. I guess we can sort it out.

Mia: Yeah. I know we needed to buy fruit: apples, bananas and blueberries. Correct?

Erica: Correct. So, if you get the fruit and pick up some eggs, I can go get the rest of the list.

Mia: No, mum! I can't grab four items from the list and let you do the rest. We do half of the list each.

Erica: Alright. Grab some pasta, a bag or two of popcorn, and bread. Also potatoes, red onions, cucumbers and tomatoes. How does that sound?

Mia: Pasta, popcorn, bread, potatoes, red onions, cucumbers and...?

Erica: Tomatoes.

Mia: Got it. See you soon!

Erica: I'll call you when I'm done! I guess this will take a while for both of us.

Mia: Yeah, good luck!
